PANEL 02: NO TIME TO LOSE: GOOD GOVERNANCE AND ANTI-CORRUPTION IN SPORT | 11:30 - 12:20 | MODERATED BY PAUL NICHOLSON

Sport requires the highest governance and integrity standards to operate as a credible and respected industry. The plethora of examples to the contrary resonates globally and compromises Sport's good name and reputation. Moreover, the lack of a robust, adequate, and updated regulatory approach leaves Sport vulnerable to increasing risks of corruption and the pernicious influence of transnational organised crime. This timely session brings these issues to the fore and outlines what must be done to root corruption out of Sport and preserve its role in today's society, and global economy.

PANEL 03: THE EMPEROR'S NEW CLOTHES: STRAIGHT TALKING AND SOLUTIONS FOR FINANCIAL INTEGRITY AND TRANSPARENCY IN SPORT | 14:00 - 14:50

POWERED BY Abreu:
advogados

Financial Integrity and transparency are cornerstones of good governance in Sport. However, concerns regarding the opaqueness of sports finances and its vulnerability to criminal influence are ubiquitous and unresolved. The sport sector itself has both deep-rooted concerns and a direct responsibility to be part of the solution, and so do governments, financial regulators, supervision authorities and law enforcement. Only through meaningful and result-driven collaboration, appropriate governance reforms and stakeholder buy-in can we aspire to a fiscally responsible and financially sustainable sport, free from the ever-present threat of corruption, money laundry and tax evasion. This insightful session addresses these concerns directly and what needs to happen to get the much-needed reforms done. Join us!

PANEL 05: STANDING ON THE SHOULDERS OF GIANTS: YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & PROTECTION IN SPORT | 17:15 - 18:05

The future of Sport depends on one critical factor: integrity. Participation, investment and support fluctuate, but exposure, accessibility and interest are at an all-time high. The proliferation of new media has facilitated the eyes of the world to see more and more cases of sports' failure to adequately safeguard those involved – both historic and contemporary. The question on everyone's minds now is why isn't Sport proactively addressing these issues? How can sport's governing bodies, and the sponsors and broadcasters that support them, validate the mere self-certification of their own safeguarding capabilities, when they consistently fall short? Join us to see how we can move from words to action.

PANEL 06: ACCOUNTABILITY AND SCRUTINY IN SPORT MEANS SIRVS | 09:00 - 09:50

Integrity has become a go-to catchphrase in many industries, including sport. However, the definition of integrity is often politically evoked whilst conveniently fluid. For integrity to be meaningful it must be implemented on a day-to-day basis. To deliver the much-needed cultural change from rhetoric to reality SIGA is facilitating an independent solution: The SIGA Independent Rating and Verification System (SIRVS). The purpose of SIRVS is to assess and rate the sporting organisations' level of implementation of, and compliance with, the SIGA Universal Standards. Accountability and scrutiny are key to integrity. Tune in to hear the thoughts of industry leaders who are at the forefront of this revolution.

PANEL 07: WITH GREAT EARNING POWER COMES GREAT RESPONSIBILITY: WHY BRANDS ARE STEPPING UP FOR SPORT INTEGRITY | 10:00 - 10:50

The use of Sport as a tool to simply market products and raise brand awareness has gone the way of the dinosaurs. Society, and more importantly, prospective customers now have the expectation that brands demonstrate a commitment to core principles, values and causes that resonate with a more accountable, integrity-underpinned, society. This panel explores the surrounding issues and explores the realities of how, why, and where big business can, and should, facilitate change through the allocation of their sponsorship policies and budgets. The way global society consumes sport is changing, quickly, irreversibly and in unpredictable ways. Not too long ago the 'metaverse' would be considered the realm of sci-fi fiction, not the next frontier of sports tech. At a time where Sports Media Rights are at an unprecedented high, this session explores the challenges the industry faces to maintain control. The speakers will shine a light on the evolutions, risks, opportunities, and implications of how Sport can be accessed, consumed and monetised in both legal and illegal ways. The panel will share their expert knowledge to help inform and enable others to navigate these shifting sands and better protect the Integrity of Sport.

PANEL 09: BEYOND THE SCOREBOARD: HOW TECHNOLOGY & INNOVATION CAN DRIVE SPORT INTEGRITY | 12:25 - 13:15

Success in Sport often comes down to marginal gains; glory or defeat can be determined by inches or milliseconds. As such, the quest for legal ways to improve is unending. The influx of technological advances in society has seen sports technology thrive and Sport benefit exponentially. This session explores the risks associated with this 'arms race' and how technological innovation can be harnessed to safeguard sport integrity, rather than jeopardise it. The speakers draw upon their raft of experience to help others avoid the potential minefield of what may eventually become known as technological doping.

II SIGA GRID FORUM | 09:00 - 10:20

STEP UP OR STAND DOWN – DELIVERING GRID IN SPORT

SIGA has long advocated that urgent action is required to deliver the inclusive, representative sport that we all demand. Discrimination has no place within good governance; moreover, those that inhibit, delay or avoid organisational change are as much a part of the problem as those that perpetuate the acts. This session underscores the necessity for immediate action and outlines the route forwards to progress from words to action. Following the successful inaugural edition (Miami, March 2022), the SIGA GRID FORUM is back to raise awareness, drive collective action and instigate positive, meaningful change.

The mechanisms and range of markets that Sport can disseminate its product to has never been more diverse. This presents Sport stakeholders many opportunities for positive evolution and growth. A key consequence of this changing landscape is that limiting access to information and protecting IP has never been more complex. As such, organised criminal groups are exploiting innovation to facilitate illicit gain with those who are negatively impacted often needing equally innovative methods to rectify and proactively safeguard their assets. This expert panel addresses the core components of these issues and roadmaps the way forward for others to follow

The SIGA Sports Betting Forum brings all sides of the betting industry together with one fundamental objective: to assess the current sports betting landscape and navigate a path towards a prosperous future, built on the foundations of Integrity and sustained by the most adequate regulatory frameworks. Sports Betting Integrity is fundamental to the future of Sport and it cannot be implemented or upheld without the coordinated commitment of all stakeholders, including governments, sports competition organisers and their members, as well as betting regulators and operators. There is an unambiguous need for fit-for-purpose regulatory frameworks and stronger trans-national involvement to create a fully regulated solution and efficient scrutiny.
